Crucial Knowledge

In addition to becoming very familiar with our core texts, through drama, play and retelling, children will learn:

- All about our school through getting to know routines and rules, and learning where things belong
- That families are different, with different numbers of people within them
- There are different types of homes that we live in and homes around the world
- To become more confident in trying new things, such as different foods we eat at home, which we like and dislike.
- To be able to notice and name our feelings
- About the lives of children around the world
- How to make friends and how to be a good friend
- All about autumn and how the season will change, darker nights, leaves falling from the trees, animals hibernating
